CHEATED.

John Hyman asserts that he was cheated out of the Radical nomination for Congress by Thomas and his friends, last Thursday, at Wilson. This he alleged after the nomination was made. And yet Hyman moved to make the nomination unanimous in the face of the fraud!

Will not the colored men of the Second District resent this insult to their race by the Radical leaders, who are afraid to nominate one of their number for any important position, because, as these leaders allege, such a policy would injure the party?

The men who controlled the Wilson Convention which defeated Hyman, are mostly Revenue officers. Perry, Franklin, Wright, Renfrow, all Federal officials, were the wire-workers, assisted by Gen. L. G. Estes, late of the Revenue Department.

If Hyman will not undertake it, can not some other colored man be found in the Second District, who has the manliness and independence to oppose Thomas—the office holder's candidate? We shall see.

TO-DAY.

Judge Merrimon will meet Gov. Caldwell to day at Pittsboro, the latter having consented to a discussion. Our managing editor, Jordan Stone, Esq., will be on hand, and will give the readers of the News a full report.

C. H. BROGDEN'S RECORD AS A GENUINE REPUBLICAN.

The Legislature of 1868 was overwhelmingly Republican. It was intensely loyal. It was so thoroughly Republican and so intensely loyal, that it had no occasion to be honest. The leaders of that notorious body even forgot the yankee maxim "that it is the best policy to be honest," or at least in their greed for gain they overlooked their best policy, and resorted to bribery, corruption and high-handed stealing. The sense of our very moral community was shocked at their immorality, sustained though it was, by so much loyalty. Clamors were heard on every side for an investigation. The good name of the State demanded it. All honest men joined in a cry for a thorough searching investigation into the bribery and corruption of the Legislature. The very loyal representatives of the Republican party could not withstand this demand of the people.

On January 13, 1870, Mr. Love, a Conservative, introduced in the Senate a resolution appointing a committee of investigation. It was passed, and Messrs. Phillips, Bragg and Scott were duly appointed as the committee. The committee commenced its investigation.

On March 4, Mr. Smith introduced a resolution "to abolish the investigating committee ordered by the Senate."

Maj. Graham moved that the resolution be not received. His motion failed. Curtis H. Brogden, and twenty-one other Republicans voting against Graham's motion. After some parliamentary maneuvering, Mr. Smith's resolution to abolish the investigating committee was voted down, but Curtis H. Brogden voted for the resolution to abolish the investigating committee!

Why did the Republican candidate for Lieutenant Governor vote to abolish the investigation? Who knows the secret springs of a politician's action? Why did he object to an investigation of fraud and corruption in high places—especially when the committee was composed of Phillips, Bragg and Scott? Ah! Mr. Candidate for Lieutenant Governor, is there not a secret history attached to that vote? Was that vote given in the interest of the people of North Carolina? Was the committee about to expose to the gaze of the people certain transactions you desired to cover up—to conceal? Were you acting in the interest of Littlefield?

Everybody knows that Littlefield had bribed your loyal and Republican Legislature—had bought it and paid for it. Swepson swears he paid $241,713 for Littlefield, and for the most part to members of your Republican Legislature. Now, were you prostituting your high office to cover up frauds and bribery? What is your answer to this question, Mr. Republican Candidate for Lieutenant Governor?

Turn to your sworn testimony before the Shipp Fraud Committee—page 533. "Question. Do you remember being present at an entertainment given at the National Hotel during the latter part of the session of 69-70?"

"Answer." (By Curtis H. Brogden.) "I was present by invitation," &c. "The question of repealing the Bragg committee was mentioned, and I think it was agreed by a majority of the Senators present that they would vote to repeal it on the next day."

"Question. Was General Littlefield present?"

"Answer. He came in and took a glass of wine with his friends and remarked to them that if they knew as much as he did about that Bragg Committee they would vote to repeal it next day."

Now turn to the sworn testimony of "Brother" R. W. Lassiter, (as loyal a Republican as may be under the Code of Civil Procedure)—page 134.

Question. "Do you know anything about an entertainment given by Milton S. Littlefield on 8th &c?"

Answer (By R. W. Lassiter.) "I was invited by O. S. Hayes, &c. Upon my arrival at the hotel, I found a considerable number of persons in the room where the supper was given, consisting chiefly of members of the Legislature—other persons, however, being present. Littlefield was present."

After the oyster supper was over, there was general conversation, and speeches were made by Brogden, Burns, Littlefield and others.

According to the best of my recollection, it seemed to be the understanding that the resolution raising the Bragg Committee, should be repealed, but whether there was a formal vote taken I do not know. I think there was a resolution introduced the next day to repeal the resolution appointing the Bragg Committee.

Question. "Was it not charged in the Senate on the next day by Welker and others that Gold, Bonds, or Money or some other consideration was offered to members of the Senate to procure the passage of the resolution repealing the Bragg Committee?"

Answer. "I do not know what the tenor of Welker's speech was. I heard that he used strong language in opposing the repeal, and also that the Senator from Rockingham, Mr. Lindsay, stated that he had heard that gold or something had been used or offered to procure votes enough to carry the repeal. Of this I know nothing except as I heard it reported."

And the day after the Littlefield oyster supper, Curtis H. Brogden voted to repeal the Bragg and Phillips Convention of Investigation. See Senate Journal 69-70, pages 493, 494.

THE VOICE OF THE DEMOCRATIC PRESS.

The position of the News in declining, at this time, to hoist the names of Greeley and Brown at our masthead, seems to meet with general favor with our party, and is in accordance with the attitude of a very large majority of the Democratic papers of the country, both North and South.

In this State, we believe the Wilmington Star and Charlotte Dispatch are the only two of our Democratic contemporaries that have as yet raised the Greeley flag, and both of these we have no doubt, have taken this step with the view of indicating to the National Democratic Convention their desire that our party should endorse the Liberal ticket, as the most likely to defeat Grant. If we understand their position aright, neither of these papers endorses Greeley unconditionally, but with the simple purpose of giving expression to the policy they wish to see adopted by the National Democratic Convention.

In the present condition of political parties, of course the Star and Dispatch have the undoubted right, as Democratic journals, to take this advanced position, and it may in the end turn out that their course was the proper one. While we incline to the contrary opinion, we cheerfully accord to our contemporaries the right we ourselves shall exercise, to pursue that course they deem best calculated to insure unity and concert of action on the part of the Democratic forces.

We desire to see the Democratic party thoroughly organized. It is only by discipline that we can hope to become a power in the land. If our columns scatter off in straggling parties, without system and without organization, we cannot hope to march upon the enemy with that compactness of strength and resistless force which discipline, unity and combined power will give us.

Our National Convention meets in Baltimore on the 4th of July. If the contest at that time be unimpairedly narrowed down as between Greeley and Grant, we cannot doubt but that our party will decide to take the former. But there may be such complications by that time, that it may be the duty of our Convention to pursue a line of conduct which cannot now be even conjectured.

Therefore, while we prefer Greeley to Grant, let us bide our time, and await developments in the near future.

We notice the New York World of last Saturday, has classified the attitude of one hundred and sixty-two of its Democratic exchanges in every section of the country. Of these forty-five are in favor of a straight out Democratic ticket; sixty-eight occupy the position of the News and favor awaiting the action of the Democratic Convention, while twenty-nine support the Cincinnati nominees.

TRIP TO NASH.

During our visit to Nash last week, in company with Judge Merrimon, we spent the first evening with our young friend, James S. Battle, Esq., of Rocky Mount, junior member of the well-known firm of W. S. Battle & Son, proprietors of the celebrated Rocky Mount Cotton Factory. We were taken through the extensive works of the Messrs. Battle, whose enterprise and indomitable energy are an honor to the State. We are pleased to know that these gentlemen are meeting with that success in business which true merit should always command. Besides the Cotton Factory, the Messrs. Battle are running saw, grist and flour mills, and carry on a large mercantile business.

The second evening we spent at the residence of B. H. Bunn, Esq., where we received every attention that courtesy could suggest.

Both of these young gentlemen's mansions are presided over by model house-keepers in the persons of their accomplished better halves, and the evidences of elegant neatness, good living, comfort and domestic bliss which we witnessed at their homes were enough to extort sighs from the most callous-hearted bachelor, and cause him to exclaim:

"Domestic happiness, thou only bliss Of Paradise that has survived the fall!"

While absent from our post, we had the pleasure of meeting with the following members of the press: Bonitz, of the Goldsboro Messenger, Barnes, of the Wilson Ledger, Battle, of the Rocky Mount Mail, Harris, of the Battleboro Advance, Furman, of the Franklin Courier, and Manning Bros., of the Roanoke News.

We notice that our friends of the Newbern Journal of Commerce have the names of several of the Democratic Executive Committees printed erroneously. That paper has only seven Congressional Committees, whereas there are eight. A revised list will be found in our columns this morning.

On the State ticket, we notice the Journal of Commerce has the names of James H. Separk and Nereus F. Mendenhall.

The first should be Joseph H. Separk, and in the latter the F. we think is an error.

We desire to call the attention of our contemporaries to this error, as it would make considerable difference if ballots should be printed with the wrong names, as they would not be counted for the nominees.

ON HAND, THE POLITICAL SITUATION.

We have in hand a large number of notices of the press on the Cincinnati nominations and other political straws, showing which way the National political wind is veering, which we will condense and give to the public as rapidly as possible. The publication of Judge Merrimon's speech and the proceedings of the Baptist Convention prevent us giving our usual variety in this issue.

We deem it important to keep our readers advised of the popular sentiment.

The Greeley ticket is growing stronger each day. Several leading Democrats, including Wood and Brooks, of New York, Gen. Gordon, of Georgia, Beck and Garrett Davis, of Kentucky, Hon. John Goode, of Virginia, and many others, have recently endorsed the Liberal candidates.

IMPORTANT.

Read the important notice of Hon. D. M. Barringer, concerning the State Executive Committee in this city, on the 7th July. We will refer to this matter more at length to-morrow.

The London Sunday morning Observer says that communications have been passing between the Washington Cabinet and London during the whole of the past week. The United States have made no definite proposition of a favor, able character. It is hoped, however, that the President may recommend and the Senate approve of a modification of the treaty. The course of the British Government, before Parliament, will depend on the reply of the Washington Cabinet. Public opinion in England is averse to any action which will close negotiations for settlement.

A Detroit dispatch, under date of Sunday, says that fifteen hundred men, employed at the Heckle Calumet and Schoolcraft Mines, are on a strike. Troops have been demanded by the sheriff and circuit judge. Gen. Sheridan replied that he had no available troops, but Gen. Cook sent a company of infantry. It is feared that the disorder will be spread to other mines.

Mr. Donner gave his young stallion, Startle, a trial on Prospect Park Friday last, when he trotted a mile in the remarkable time of 2:19. This is the fastest time ever made by any stallion of any age, and yet Startle is not yet five years old.

The Georgia Press Association visited Nashville on Sunday, and were banqueted at Exposition Hall.

Speech of Judge Merrimon Before the Greensboro Convention, on the 2nd of May, 1872.

The following is the substance of the able speech made by our standard bearer, Judge A. S. Merrimon, before the Greensboro Convention on Thursday, May 2nd, in accepting the nomination which he had received at the hands of the Convention. It will, we know, be read with interest by our readers:

Mr. President and Gentlemen of the Convention: You have been pleased to confer upon me a distinguished honor in the nomination for Governor of the State which you have just made. For this manifestation of confidence and respect, coming as it does from a body of gentlemen distinguished alike for dignity of character, intelligence, patriotism and public and private virtue, and representing, as they do, every interest and class of the people, I tender you my grateful and cordial thanks. But I am painfully sensible of the high responsibility and grave duties you have devolved upon me. To present truly, strongly and successfully to the people the disordered and calamitous condition of our common country, and particularly that of our own State, is an undertaking from which one far abler than myself might well shrink.

This important position has not been sought by me. On the contrary, I had anxiously hoped that some one other than myself would be selected and charged with it; but I recognize the right of this body, and the people through them, to command my efforts in behalf of the common good of the country, and particularly at a time like the present, and at your command I accept the position and labors you have assigned me, relying upon the assistance of the distinguished gentlemen you have associated with me, your cordial co-operation and that of the people under the direction of an Allwise and overruling Providence for success in the election, and the glorious triumph of our government and constitutional right.

The circumstances attending the nomination are peculiarly gratifying to me. It was made on the first ballot, and by a very large vote, coming from every section and quarter of the State, thus manifesting the general desire, not so much to honor me personally as to secure a grand patriotic end. This large vote was with great cordiality made unanimous. Then the delegates from the home of my birth, beyond the mountains, who have known me best and honored me most, and from my boyhood, voted invariably for me—this was indeed gratifying to my heart. Again—in 1870 I had the honor to be the humblest of the defenders of the noble people of Caswell and Alamance counties when they were oppressed, persecuted, outraged by a lawless and despotic Governor who had subverted the Constitution and laws of the State and the United States by means of a mercenary armed force. [Applause.]

In recognition of my humble efforts in their behalf, I was nominated by one of Caswell's gallant sons and received their cordial support. This mark of respect and recognition touched my sensibility—it stirs my deepest feelings, and I shall remember it with grateful pleasure till my dying day. God bless the people of Caswell and Alamance!

Some allusion was made to my home—as to whether it is in one section of the State or another. The home of my youth and early manhood—the place ever dear to my heart and where I hope my dust shall rest after I die, is in the mountains, while the city of Raleigh is my place of residence and domicile. But my affections cling to glorious "Old Buncombe" and the mountains—I shall never cease to look to it as home. But nevertheless, I am indeed a North Carolinian!

I love every foot of her soil. If called upon to reside as your Governor, I shall know no section—no East no West—no North no South. North Carolina is my home, [Applause.] I have learned to feel at home anywhere within her borders. I feel great pride in her noble history, and ancestry. I am proud of the fame of her statesmen—her judges, lawyers and scholars—her farmers and mechanics and merchants, and I share most proudly in all the glory of her people, in peace and in war! I know in the black storm of Radicalism that has defaced our history for the last four years. If I shall be elected to the high and honorable position for which you have nominated me, I shall be the Governor of the whole people, planting my feet firmly on the Constitution and laws of my country as a firm and sure support, and my best and latest effort shall be to imitate and rival the glory and fame of the noblest of my predecessors. [Applause.]

The time I may occupy you will not allow me to enter into a labored discussion of the political condition of the country. I can only glance at it very hastily and briefly.

In the first place, it is important that we should at this time recur to the fundamental principles of liberty and free government, for these are not only menaced and suspended in numerous individual instances, but they are in imminent peril of being overthrown and absolutely destroyed and our system of government changed in spirit, if not in name.

Governments are instituted to subserve the ends and interests of men as individuals and as composing society—for the protection of life, liberty and property, and whenever they cease to effectuate these purposes, they cease to be governments—they are then mockeries and cheats and anarchy sooner or later supervenes. There are several distinctive kinds of governments, but our fathers thought a republican form of government the best adapted and fitted to secure the priceless blessings of free government, and hence they adopted a written Constitution in which they set down in plain terms, certain great fundamental truths, principles essential to rational liberty, and free government. Among these essential rights, are the right to be free from arrest unless upon affidavit and by warrant issued by a lawful magistrate, the sacred right of man to the great writ of habeas corpus, when arrested, to the end that the cause may be inquired into by a judge and the party restored to liberty, if not lawfully detained, the right of trial by jury, the right to be free from arrest and search of houses, etc., unless upon lawful warrant, the right to perfect freedom in elections, and the general right to have the Constitution and laws operate according to their power and spirit at all times and everywhere.

These are in fact essential and fundamental principles of liberty, it cannot exist with them, they are of the highest and last importance to every citizen—whether he be great or small—they are of priceless value and dear to freemen as life itself.

Until of late years, the love of these grand principles was so universal among the people that they were allowed to operate so thoroughly and completely, that the people forgot almost to think of and regard them, but times and men have sadly changed within these latter years—the spirit of Radical outrage—"that might makes right," the end justifies the means," of disregard of Constitutional rights and obligations, has covered the whole land and those who by one means or another have been entrusted with official power have prostituted that power, disregarded their high obligations, subverted the Constitution and made it virtually a dead letter and a cheat!

This spirit has been illustrated on a large and alarming scale in the forcible reconstruction of the States lately in rebellion; that reconstruction was by force and done after the war had ceased for years—it was done without regard to the constitutional rights of the States, or the people composing them, by means of the sword in a time of peace, and when not even the plea of necessity could be plausibly set up to justify such action. When it was proposed to invoke the aid of the highest judicial tribunal of the land in behalf of the Constitution, a great "higher-law" political party put forth its arm of legislative power to prevent that court from declaring such action void, and the supremacy of the Constitution, and accomplished this purpose. I do not cite this grand suspension of the Constitution for the purpose of suggesting opposition to reconstruction as accomplished—on the contrary I recognize it as now necessary and binding, because the people of the States have for the sake of peace and the blessing of civilization submitted to revolutionary reconstruction—they have accepted it, and it is the part of wisdom and a political necessity that it shall be recognized and upheld as part of the law of the land. But this tremendous exercise of power is calculated to alarm every friend of the Constitution and free government. If this may be done now, it may be done again and again, and as often as a furious and factional party shall see fit and have power to accomplish such purpose.

Thousands of our best people were in time of peace, disfranchised and thousands still remain ineligible for office and this end has been effected in a like forcible manner.

Troops have been stationed in many States of the Union in the interest of a political party manifestly for the purpose of interfering with the freedom of elections and controlling them—troops have been sent repeatedly to this and other States in the South and to the great State of New York and other States of the North.

In hundred of instances, federal power as received and administered by Radical officials in time of peace, has been used freely to arrest and imprison citizens without warrant and in express and flagrant violation of the Constitution and public and personal liberty.

In a time of peace, in like violation of the Constitution and liberty, the writ of Habeas Corpus is suspended, and scores and hundreds of citizens have been arrested without any lawful warrant or authority, and by military lawless force! A despotism is at large established in our land of liberty! And this in the interests of a radical—a higher-law-faction, and the people submit to it calmly and quietly! How long will they do so? Are they free? Are they the descendants of Washington and Hamilton and Jefferson and the illustrious men of 1776?

But this great radical faction in further violation of the Constitution and outrage of the people of the nation—having prostituted the taxing powers of the government and imposed burdens of taxation too intolerable to be borne—levy millions and tens and hundreds of millions of money from the people, and hundreds of millions of this money are used to promote the ends of the radical party so-called, and perpetuate its power and enrich its votaries. We have an Internal Revenue system that corrupts and demoralizes the nation—it perverts society—it creates a moral anarchy, and, which, if not suppressed, will absolutely destroy all political vitality in government and lead the people into a state of anarchy.

FOR SALE.

WARRENTON HOTEL

In consequence of old age and infirmity being able to attend to the duties of a hotel, I have resolved to sell the above property. It is located in the town of Warrenton, Warren county, N. C. The hotel contains some thirty rooms, and all necessary out-houses, and an accommodated from 50 to 75 guests comfortably. It is the only public house in the village. Warrenton is celebrated for its healthfulness, good society and schools. There are four churches of different denominations in the village, and it has been for many years a favorite resort of persons seeking health in Summer and Fall. This property will be sold lower than any property of the kind ever offered to the public. I deem it useless to give a further description of the property, as any person desiring to purchase, can come and examine the premises. I am determined to sell.

The hotel will continue open for the reception of the traveling public, and I invite all health seekers, in the Summer, to call upon me. My terms will be moderate. MRS. M. M. BROWNLOW, ap 20-11

HIGH GRADE

Super-Phosphate of Lime.

Composed entirely of the Charleston Bone Phosphate, Sulphuric Acid and Ammonia. Warranted to analyze seven per cent. of Soluble Phosphoric Acid and one per cent. of Ammonia.

We are prepared to offer this reliable and superior Super-phosphate after a test of more than five years in the cotton growing States of South Carolina, Georgia and Alabama, where its record is second to none.

Other manufacturers—not excepting Peruvian Guano and Pure Ground Bone—have a better record for cotton than these Planters and Dealers—in any quantity—at any railroad depot in the State, or at this factory, upon satisfactory terms.

Price per ton, delivered at any station on the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad east of Henderson, or on the Wilmington and Weldon road north of Rocky Mount, for $50 cash.

Put up in bags—very stout—for immediate use—or in good barrels—which we recommend as better, owing to the high grade of the article as ordered. Circulars and testimonials furnished upon application. All orders and communications addressed to

SPECIAL FEATURES AND ADVANTAGES.

1st. No restriction on Residence or Travel.

2d. No extra charge on Lives of Females.

3d. Policies incontestable after Five Years.

4th. The Rates of Interest on the Funds of the Company are higher than those on the Funds of Companies located in other States, thus insuring larger Dividends to Policy Holders.

5th. The Directors and Officers of the Company are prominent NORTH CAROLINIANS, who are known to be men of INTEGRITY and WORTH.

6th. The Company is established on a solid and permanent basis, steps having been taken to increase the Capital Stock to $500,000.

7th. ALL THE FUNDS OF THE COMPANY ARE INVESTED IN THIS STATE AND CIRCULATED AMONG OUR OWN PEOPLE. This fact should commend the Company, above all others, to North Carolinians. It is well known that hundreds of thousands of Dollars in Life Premiums are annually sent North to enrich Northern Capitalists, thus continually draining our people of immense amounts which should be kept at home. On this ground the friends of this Company confidently appeal to every son of the Old North State, and ask their support in this Home Extension, which, while it offers substantially all the advantages of Northern Companies, helps to build up Home Industry.

LOST HOURS.

It was a mournful watch she kept,
In the soundless winter night,
While all the world around her slept,
And the pitiless stars shone bright;
For she saw the years in long review,
The years when life was bright and new,
And what had left at last!
And she cried, as she thought of her drooping
flowers,
Her baffled hopes, and her failing powers,
"Oh, my lost hours!"

What a harvest might have been garnered in,
When the golden grain was wasted!
What a nectar of life it was here to win,
When the draught was barely tasted!
What happy memories might have shone,
Had folly never stained them!
What noble heights to rest upon,
If a steeper foot had gained them!
And she cried as she sat 'mid her faded
flowers,
"Rashness and weakness bring fatal dowers:
Oh, my lost hours!"

Too late for battle, too late for fame,
Come the vision of better life,
With eyes that are burning with tears of shame
She looks on the world's keen strife;
The patient love can not pardon now,
Or the fond believing cheer,
Where the white cross stands and the violets blow
Lie the loved that made life so dear,
Kiss Nature renews her perished flowers,
But death recks nothing of sun or showers:
Ah, for lost hours!
